The Economics of Social Responsibility
The World of Social Enterprises

Edited by Carlo Borzaga, Leonardo Becchetti

Series: Routledge Advances in Social Economics

This book offers a rethinking of the burgeoning research on not-for-profit organizations and socially responsible economics. Adopting a comparative approach, the chapters explore and reinterpret the impact of social enterprises on the provision of general-interest services, work integration, microfinance, and fair trade, and show how these enterprises form the hub of an emerging economy of social responsibility. The book provides a new interpretation of social enterprises as entrepreneurial organizations that pursue social objectives and are successful due to the non-self-seeking motives of their members.

This book will be of interest to postgraduate students, professionals working in the not-for-profit sector, and scholars interested in socially responsible economics. It is particularly suitable for seminars and workshops focusing on the management of not-for-profit organizations, sustainable development, and globalization.

Table of Contents

Author Biography

Leonardo Becchetti is Professor of Economics at the University of Rome ‘Tor Vergata’, Italy.

Carlo Borzaga is Professor of Economics at the University of Trento, Italy, and President of the European Research Institute on Cooperative and Social Enterprises (Euricse).
To pay by credit card, please visit:

www.routledge.com/9780415632348

Or find your local customer service department’s phone number and email address to the right.